Even with his busy schedule he and his friends "The Gang" made time to Travel, Socialize and Party After the passing of his wife he remarried and later joined The Christ Temple Church of Ashland Ky where he sang in all the choirs, enjoyed Sunday school and traveling with the Late Pastor Bishop Elzy Thomas. He loved his church and could be found anywhere in the building helping where he could. During the later years of his life he was not able to make the trip to Ashland and started fellowshipping with Encouragers Fellowship Church under the Late Bishop John A Martin Jr. and Pastor Phyllis. He never missed a service and could always be found in his seat in the first or second row as well as giving word of wisdom to everybody. During the last years of his life his daughter moved home to assist him. But that didn't stop him from sitting on his porch, making numerous friends and waving at all the people who walked by. He enjoyed the company of everyone that walked by his house and watching over the community. Thomas loved the Lord, his family, going to church, gospel music which he listened to all day every day.
