I am so sorry to hear this news. Matt and I were the best of friends growing up and lost touch during our adult lives. Bob and Valerie were like my parents back then. I remember going to Black Water Falls WV for a Christmas vacation with his Grandparents and parents. I got car sick in Philbies truck on the way there. We spent hours out in the snow playing and sledding. When we came into the cabin Matt and I sat by the fire to get warm and our pants started steaming. We were so amazed. We all slept in the same room at night. One of the nights Matt passed gas really loud and woke everyone up. He then started singing a song he made up. I think it went like this...I repeat that, I repeat that, every day, every day, I repeat that, every day, every month, every year, I repeat that! We all laughed and went back to sleep. We spent Christmas day shooting G.I. Joe foam bullets across the cabin all day. Thank you Bob and Valerie for being a positive influence in my life back then. So sorry to hear this terrible news. Love and prayers.

You were part of my life for 23 yrs and even though these last few years we weren't as close as we had been I still feel such a lose. I loved you and always respected your honesty where the kids were concerned. I know you loved them and wanted the best for them. We will always keep you in our hearts and remember you with love.

I love you Dad. As Olivia said, I truly hope you know that you are loved and missed. There's not a single thing in my life that could replace you. Although we didn't see eye to eye on certain things, I deeply cherish you as a person and as a Father. I will always remember the great times we've had together. I can't thank you enough, everything from the camping trips we've taken or songs you've introduced me to I never thought i'd like. You've always had your kids best interests in mind and that means more to me than I can express. I've had a tree planted in your honor so you can live on in more ways than you already do. Thank you Dad, We all love you very much, rest in peace.
