I can't express well the sadness I've felt. I'll always and forever hold the memories of what little bit of our childhood we had together, our conversations over the years (silly and serious) and things we shared. I love you sissy, I'll always have you in my mind and my heart, and I know we will see each other again someday.

So overwhelmed and flooded with emotions. Heartache and regret for the time lost. Grateful for the memories and time spent. From the time we met as little kids we all had a unique bond. No matter how much time or distance nothing ever changed that. I won't say goodbye but will say "till I see you again" you will forever be in my heart and always on my mind. I love you sis.

Brandi will forever be one of the most important people in my life. Even though you are not here anymore, our memories will live on forever. I'll cherish our friendship eternally. The late nights online, sharing our day with each other, the community we built and friends we made together. I want to thank Brandi for allowing me to be a part of her life. I grew to love your friends and family, as you did mine. I've loved seeing your beautiful babies grow into the amazing humans they are today. There's still so much I wish I could tell you. I know that there is going to be times in life that I wish you could be there for. I love you Brandi, my soul sister to the moon and beyond.

I still can't believe you're no longer with us. Even though we never met you've always been considered a close friend of mine. From meeting on a Facebook group all those years ago, sharing memes and stories. You were an amazing mum and you have the most beautiful kids. You'll be forever in my heart, I love you ❤️💙

To the family, I am praying for y'all through this dark time. Brandi was so fun and light hearted. She was funny and always a great listener when I needed her. While it's been a long time since I've seen you all or been around, Brandi will always be special to me. Vanessa aka Allison (IYKYK)
