He was a graduate of Proctorville High School (class of '36) and attended Marshall University. From 1938 to 1945, JB was employed as a machinist for Huntington Alloys. JB attended Western Reserve University (police studies) and became a patrolman with the Huntington Police Department (HPD) on November 10, 1945, where he served until retirement on October 14, 1967. From 1952 to 1954, JB served as president of the Police Department's Gold Star Lodge #65. In 2018, Resolution No. 427-34 (COR) was adopted into the Guam Legislature, recognizing and congratulating JB with his celebration of 100 years of life. In his final years, JB truly enjoyed the tropical weather, the beauty of the island and embraced his genuine love for the people of Guam.
