In life typically you can count on one hand the number of true friends you have. The kind you may not talk to in person for months at time or only via text...but when you need something or if something is going down that person is there for you. You pick up wherever you left off. Those people are a lot rarer that you can imagine but Kim was one of those people! Our friendship was unique and it was many years...I am truly blessed to have met her and her be part of me and my life. LYL!

Betty White lit a candle in honor of Kim.

Kim was a daughter to me, even though I never gave birth to her. She called me Mamma. I was with her Dad for 16 years. She was always good to me, I will miss her very, very much. Prayers for the family.

Jackline Curnutte Hindman lit a candle in honor of Kim.

Kimmie was the most beautiful baby, and child. She was at our house many times when she was little, and we remained close throughout our lives. She was beautiful inside and out, and I love her dearly. I am so very sad for her children , husband and grands. You are in my prayers. Love, second cousin, Jacki
