Marc and I have been friends since 8th grade. He was such an amazing example of a human being. His intellect was impeccable, his friendship was sincere, his work ethic was like no other and the way he loved and cared for his Mother was Phenomenal. If only God could clone a million plus Marc's, this world would be such a better place. To his Mother prayers of strength and comfort during this difficult time. He will be so missed by everyone he came in contact with. Rest high Marc and watch over us all.

Marc, you were the most amazing soul and I know you will be a phenomenal Angel. You lived your life as an iconic and ideal man, friend, father figure to all children close to you, comforter and you have the most giving personality of all of your many spectacular qualities. I remember almost 20 years ago when my son Tae didn't have football cleats one season and you bought him not just new cleats but the most expensive ones and he was so proud to wear them on the field for everyone to see. He lit up like a northern star every time he saw you and always wanted to thank you for improving the quality of his little league experience, not just with cleats but coming to every practice and game. You and my husband became such close friends and you continued to bless our family with your kindness and charm. As one of my oldest friends you have always kept in touch and let us know your thoughts were with us, even when the army moved us to Alabama. You will be greatly and significantly missed but I know I, Ricky and the kids will all see you again someday, flying high as you have always done. I love you and I pray for your precious family and loved ones who I know feel so much pain from the loss of you in their lives. I pray they feel your love for them live on in their hearts and keep them strong until they see you again as well. I'm proud and blessed to have known you, loved you and called you my friend, one of my dearest friends in all of my life. You will never be forgotten or fade in our memories because you excelled at glorifying humanity, something most only strive for but always falling short. You are One True Blessing! Love, TeaJaye, Ricky, Rainy, Tae, Talyah, Terick, Amari & Wicket ❤️

I worked directly with Marc all day everyday. In the time we spent together we always had fun. We were in a constant game of trying to outsmart each other with 80's trivia. He was really good. I will miss our daily banter and will truly miss working with him. He was a superstar at work and cared deeply about his team and the client. I was impressed with him from day one and that respect continued to grow. He was an amazing person and great human. There is a void now that can't be filled. Marc, you are missed deeply.
