The absolute reason true honest love exists was with my mama she never turned a soul away for any reason if you were hungry or tired her fridge and bed was open if you were broke or sad her wallet and heart was open she truly touched everybody and would be there for any of us at anytime she loved her kids and her grand babies her family her friends. She lived for the chaos of everyone getting together and loved watching all of us grow up she was truly the best. I love you Betty Lou!
