Sheila Ramey lit a candle in honor of William.

Bill used to be a vendor (M&P) that I purchased from, he would stop by just about every other Monday and spend at least an hour with me, not so much selling the products but just to hang out. Then when he opened T&B he tried so hard to get a state contract for medical supplies. I still speak of him frequently because I keep my office quite warm and he would always say, wow you got in warm in here I wont be staying long today, but I would turn off the heat and he would spend his usual hour with me. Rest In Peace. Sheila Ramey, Mildred Mitchell-Bateman Hospital
